Martin Carthy has been the one constant in English folk for sixty years, and a new box set tells that story through a single institution: the BBC. Along The Road Forever: Live At The BBC arrives via Madfish on 17th July 2026, a 20CD collection of 328 live and session recordings made for the corporation from 1965 to 2022 (plus earlier ABC TV recordings). That is 22½ hours of music and 237 unique repertoire performances, two-thirds of them taken from master tapes.
